Who Am I?

Fun Bible Facts Interesting facts about sheep

Sheep are timid, nervous and easily frightened animals and for the most part defenseless against predators like coyotes and wild dogs. Their only means of survival is to flock together in large numbers and to run away from predators.

Sheep don't like to walk in water or move through narrow openings. They prefer to move into the wind and uphill than down wind and downhill.

Sheep rank in intelligence just below the pig and even with cattle.

Sheep have an excellent sense of hearing. They are more sensitive to high frequency noise than people and get scared by loud noises.
